A SHOOTING SCRAPE.

Charles Dailey puts a Bullet in John Mehen's Groin.

DIFFERENT STORIES TOLD OF IT.

Meheh himself says it was an Accident—He is not Believed to be Seriously Wounded—Jimmy Rowan Goes to the Pen for two Years. Other Criminal Matters.

Yesterday shortly before noon there was a shooting scrape in East Wheeling, exaggerated reports of which were soon flying all over the city.

As nearly as could be learned, the facts are as follows: Charles Dailey, a bricklayer, was lying on a bench in Beasley Bros. saloon, on Eighteenth street, asleep when John Meheh entered, and seeing Dailey, picked up a straw and began to tickle him. Dailey told him several times to stop, but Meheh insisted every time Dailey went to sleep in waking him by tickling him with the straw.

Finally Dailey sat up and drew a revolver. It was discharged at once, and the ball entered Meheh's leg on the inner side, near the groin, and ranged upward into his abdomen. The Doctors Taylor were summoned, but had not found the ball at a late hour. It was not thought the wound was dangerous.

Meheh said the shot was accidentally fired. Dailey claimed, also, that he drew the pistol merely as a bluff, and did not intend to fire it. An order was issued, however, to arrest him, but up to a late hour he had not been found.

ROWAN GETS TWO YEARS.

He Pleads Guilty and is Sent Up—Anne Costello Also.

Yesterday James Rowan was arraigned in the criminal court on the charge of feloniously shooting with intent to kill. By consent of the prosecuting attorney he was permitted to plead guilty to unlawful shooting. His attorney, S. O. Boyce, then made a plea for judicial clemency, and the state's attorney narrated the circumstances of the shooting at George Magora. The court assessed the penalty at two years confinement in the penitentiary, which was a great surprise to the defense. Judge Jordan showed, however, that the supreme court of appeals had decided that a penitentiary sentence could be imposed for this crime, and cited the circumstances as showing a peculiarly malicious crime.

General sympathy was expressed yesterday for Mrs. Rowan and her children, on whom the sentence fell like a thunderbolt. The family has had a pretty severe experience for the past year or so.

Annie Costello plead guilty to malicious destruction of property and was fined $100 and costs and given five days in jail.

Seven Cases Yesterday.

In the police court yesterday morning John Robrecht, Jr., was fined $1 and costs, and H. W. Conway, the colored man whom he discharged and with whom he afterwards had trouble, was fined $5 and costs. John Robrecht, Jr., Henry and Frank Robrecht and G. Johannung were discharged. Thomas Fink, the moonshiner, was fined $10 and costs for indecent exposure, which was paid.

NOTES ON NAVIGATION.

Stage of Water and Movements of Boats. The River Interest.

YESTERDAY'S DEPARTURES

BOATS LEAVING TO-DAY.
John K. Lowry, Matamoras, 11 a. m.
Mattie K., Clarington, 3:30 p. m.

The river continues at its remarkably low July stage, 21 inches being shown by the marks at the public landing last evening.

William McLaughlin, the owner of Sam, the Scaramouch, expects to sell that little craft to a Pittsburgh sporting club within a few days. Members of the club will be here to inspect the boat early next week.

The low water boats are carrying all the freight they can handle although passenger traffic is not at all good.

The snagboat Woodruff has been aground at "Guyan" for several weeks past and will remain there until there is a rise. The great trouble in regard to the Woodruff lies in the fact that she never gets to work until the low water season is at hand and then she is unable to do much. She should be put to work in May or not later than June.—Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette.

The following report was handed in by the United States snagboat E. A. Woodruff: Snags removed from the Ohio river—Seven from the Virginia side of the channel, one from Gallipolis, one from the Virginia side of the channel above Ed. Nicol's landing; two from Hlanley's landing, three from Hawman's landing, one from front of Big Sixteen creek, one from front of Bush's mill, one from front of Rankin's point, one from Klug's landing, two from the Ohio side of the channel below Federal creek and six from the channel at Guyandotte bar. Wrecks—Fuel flat from Crab creek chute; three pieces of a steamboat from channel at Guyandotte bar. Rocks between July 13 and 21—Four thousand and fifty-two cubic foot of rock and boulder were taken out of the channel at Guyandotte bar. Among these were twenty-seven very large rocks.

HEADWATER REPORTS.

Pittsburgh—River 1 foot 6 inches and stationary; cloudy and warm.
Warren—River two tenths of a foot below zero; clear and warm.
Oil City—River 5 inches and stationary; clear and warm.
Greensburg—River 6 feet 9 inches and stationary; clear and warm.

THE COMING STATE FAIR.

The Finest Exhibition Presented in the History of the Association.

The fourteenth annual exhibition of the West Virginia Exposition and State Fair association will open on Monday, September 3, and continue until the following Friday, September 7. The fair of this association have won high favor in past years, and this year's bids fair to be superior to all its predecessors. The special features were never equaled in the history of the fair, and never surpassed in any fair anywhere. There will be single, double, triple and quadruple balloon ascensions, something never seen or attempted here before. The management says the programme will be fresh, novel, engaging, exciting, exhilarating, comprehensive and popular, not sensational and startling merely, nor a show for the amusement of the vulgar, but an exhibition to educate the masses and stimulate them to higher aims and nobler efforts.

All the departments are in the hands of the best experts that can be secured, and the fair certainly ought to prove the greatest success in all respects ever seen in Wheeling. It is the aim to have no "big day," as usual, but make every day bigger than the biggest day in former years.

Sad Death of a Boy.

Yesterday morning about 7 o'clock a sad accident occurred at the home of Mr. David Herenies, on Short creek. His son, Nathan, was standing in a cart when the horse started before the harnessing was tied, and went down a bank, upsetting the cart on the boy and killing him instantly. He was a bright little boy, and his death has caused general sorrow among the many friends of the family.

The First Congressional Convention.

The Ohio River Railroad Company will sell tickets to New Martinsville to the Republican congressional convention August 1, at $1.15 for the round trip. The train will leave Wheeling at 7:20 a. m., and a special train will leave New Martinsville after the convention.
